President and CEO Pekka Vauramo:

"Our performance was strong across the portfolio and all three segments improved their results."

We delivered an overall strong third quarter, with orders at a healthy level, solid sales growth and the highest ever adjusted EBITA margins for the Group as well as for all three segments. Customer activity was in line with our expectations during the quarter, which was reflected in particular in strong services order growth. The total order intake was lower year-on-year, due to an exceptionally large smelter order booked in the third quarter last year. Adjusting for the one large order and the wind-down of the business in Russia, orders increased 27% year-on-year.

The Group's sales grew 37%, as we continued to deliver our backlog efficiently despite challenges that remain in the global supply chain. In addition to higher equipment deliveries, we continued to see strong services sales volumes, thanks to the services order growth during the previous quarters. Driven by volume growth and our successful price and cost management, the Group's adjusted EBITA increased 49% to EUR 207 million in the third quarter. This corresponds to an adjusted EBITA margin of 14.8%, which is thus far the highest we have reported and very close to our 15% margin target. Our performance was strong across the portfolio and all three segments improved their results, despite a slightly negative impact from the continued strengthening of the US dollar.

We also continue to deliver well in terms of our sustainability agenda; particularly positive was the 45% growth in the Planet Positive sales compared to full-year 2021. The highlight of our Planet Positive orders was a multi-year Life Cycle Services contract for Boliden's Kevitsa mine in Finland. In addition to the supply and optimization services of the Megaliner<sup>TM</sup> liners for four mills, the agreement also includes a novel Planet Positive mill lining recycling service for used liners. This is an attractive solution supporting the customer's operative and sustainability targets and further increasing their liner wear-life. In addition to supporting our customers' sustainability efforts with Planet Positive products, we are tracking ahead of our target in supplier sustainability engagement and concluded several actions during the quarter to reduce  $CO_2$  emissions in our own footprint.

Looking ahead, we expect customer activity to remain strong in our main markets, except for the aggregates market in Europe, which is expected to be affected by the anticipated economic downturn in the region. While there are challenges in the global economy, which may have an impact on our business environment, we will continue to focus on implementing our strategy and internal actions designed to further improve our performance and resilience in changing conditions.

The contract is a performance-based cost-per-ton agreement. The common target is to ensure the availability of the grinding circuit and to maximize valuable production time, striving for a common sustainability goal that benefits both parties. In addition, a medium-sized order with a significant amount of Planet Positive technology was booked for a greenfield beneficiation plant project in Brazil, consisting of a compact aggregates plant and key process equipment.

Russia business update

Metso Outotec condemns Russia's military offensive against Ukraine and is deeply saddened by the humanitarian crisis it has caused. Metso Outotec is not taking any new orders for deliveries to Russia and continued to wind-down its Russian business operations and non-sanctioned customer contracts through final deliveries or termination agreements during the third guarter, in line with its earlier disclosures.

In the second quarter, Metso Outotec booked a provision totaling EUR 150 million for wind-down and restructuring, which is expected to cover the remaining exposure in Russia. Wind-down-related final deliveries to non-sanctioned customers during the third quarter amounted to EUR 46 million and the provision at the end of September totaled EUR 145 million.

Metso Outotec will continue to monitor the situation closely, as further changes are expected in sanctions and export control restrictions, as well as in the availability of banking facilities and logistics.

Short-term business risks and market uncertainties

The current uncertainty in the global markets may affect Metso Outotee's market environment. Inflation has risen sharply and is increasing production costs. The tightening of monetary policy by central banks to tackle inflation has led to higher financing costs for investments. Whilst higher prices for minerals and metals typically have a positive impact on demand for Metso Outotec's products and services, volatility is challenging both for customers and suppliers. Rising cost inflation and financing costs as well as high foreign exchange rate volatility could have a negative impact on customers' capex decision-making. Even though the company's hedging currency exposure is linked to firm delivery and purchase agreements, exchange rate fluctuations may impact its financial position. There are also other market and customer-related risks that could cause on-going projects to be postponed, delayed, discontinued or terminated.

Global supply chains continue to be tight, challenged by inflation and the availability of materials, components and logistics; these challenges may be further exacerbated and affect the company's ability to deliver on-time and/or on-budget. The financial position of suppliers may be at risk and could also lead to challenges with on-time deliveries. If suppliers are unable to deliver and the company is unable to find alternative sources in the time required, it may lead to contractual penalties and/or obligations.

Covid-19's impact on the market and Metso Outotec has softened, but there is still a risk of further variants spreading and causing similar business challenges to those seen in 2020 and 2021. China's continued zero-tolerance policy may create disruption to Metso Outotec's supply chain, own operations or personnel. Metso Outotec remains vigilant and ready to take various measures to protect the health and safety of its people.

Uncertain market conditions could adversely affect our customers' payment behavior and increase the risk of lawsuits, claims and disputes taken against Metso Outotec in various countries related to, among other things, Metso Outotec's products, projects and other operations.

Whilst Metso Outotec has made a provision for the wind-down of its customer contracts and operations in Russia, the extent to which the wind-down can be finalized is still a risk, and the final cost of the wind-down could be affected by possible further escalation of the war in Ukraine, sanctions and export controls, as well as availability of banking services and logistics. The wind-down can lead to an increased risk of claims, disputes or lawsuits.

Information security and cyber threats could disturb or disrupt Metso Outotec's businesses and operations.

Metso Outotec has identified a significant risk related to its ilmenite smelter project in Saudi Arabia, in line with earlier disclosures. Provisions have been made against this risk. The contractual position and other factual circumstances will ultimately determine the eventual liability and financial impact.

Disputes related to project execution and resulting in extra costs and/or penalties are a risk for Metso Outotec. In the contracts related to the delivery of major projects, the liquidated damages attributable to, for instance, delayed delivery or non-performance may be significant. Even though provisions are provided for, in accordance with accounting principles, there is no certainty that additional liabilities would not materialize.

In discontinued operations, the company has identified a risk related to the UK waste-to-energy projects from 2015, where, in addition to delayed delivery and non-performance claims, the customer is claiming fraudulent misrepresentation and deliberate breach in its claims and lawsuits. Even though Metso Outotec believes it can protect itself against these claims and lawsuits, there is no certainty that additional liabilities would not materialize.

Metso Outotec is involved in a few disputes that may lead to arbitration and court proceedings. Differing interpretations of international contracts and laws may cause uncertainties in estimating the outcome of these disputes. The enforceability of contracts in certain market areas may be challenging or difficult to foresee.

Market outlook

According to its disclosure policy, Metso Outotec's market outlook describes the expected sequential development of market activity during the following six-month period using three categories: improve, remain at the current level, or decline.

Metso Outotec expects the market activity to remain at the current level, with the mining market remaining strong and the aggregates market declining due to the expected softening of the European market.

Alternative Performance Measures

Metso Outotec presents certain key figures (alternative performance measures) as additional information to the financial measures presented in the consolidated statements of comprehensive income and the consolidated balance sheet and cash flows prepared in accordance with IFRS. In Metso Outotec's view, alternative performance measures provide meaningful supplemental information on its operational results, financial position and cash flows and are widely used by analysts, investors and other parties.

To improve the comparability between periods, Metso Outotec presents adjusted EBITA, being earnings before interest, tax, and amortization adjusted by capacity adjustment costs, acquisition costs, gains, and losses on business disposals as well as Metso Outotec transaction and integration costs. Their nature and net effect on cost of goods sold, selling, general and administrative expenses, as well as other income and expenses are presented in the segment information. Net debt, gearing, equity-to-asset ratio, debt-to-capital ratio, and debt-to-equity ratio are presented as complementing measures because, in Metso Outotec's view, they are useful measures of Metso Outotec's ability to obtain financing and to service its debts. Net working capital provides additional information concerning the cash flow needs of Metso Outotec's operations.

Alternative performance measures should not be viewed in isolation or as a substitute to the IFRS financial measures. All companies do not calculate alternative performance measures in a uniform manner, and therefore Metso Outotec's alternative performance measures may not be comparable with similarly named measures presented by other companies.

Due to the segment structure change of January 1, 2022, Metso Outotec's comparison figures for 2021 have been restated according to the new segment structure. ### 4. Financial risk management

As a global company, Metso Outotec is exposed to a variety of business and financial risks. Financial risks are managed centrally by the Group Treasury under annually reviewed written policies approved by the Board of Directors. Treasury operations are monitored by the Treasury Management Team chaired by the CFO. Group Treasury identifies, evaluates and hedges financial risks in close cooperation with the operating units. Group Treasury functions as counterparty to the operating units, centrally manages external funding, and is responsible for the management of financial assets and appropriate hedging measures. The objective of financial risk management is to minimize potential adverse effects on Metso Outotec's financial performance.

High volatility in the currency markets during the second quarter was visible in a strong appreciation of the US dollar and the depreciation of several key mining countries' currencies. This resulted in significant changes in the fair value of currency hedges as well as operating currency losses having a negative impact on adjusted EBITA. The change in fair value hedges is attributed to the non-hedge accounted hedges, which are typically related to product sales and purchases. There is a timing and line mismatch with the hedge and the operative underlying transaction; later, when the customer invoicing is concluded and revenue is recognized, the appreciated USD impact will flow through. The hedges related to larger projects are hedge accounted, and their fair value is not recognized in the income statement.

Liquidity and refinancing risk, capital structure management

Liquidity or refinancing risk arises when a company is not able to arrange funding at terms and conditions corresponding to its creditworthiness. Sufficient cash, short-term investments, and committed and uncommitted credit facilities are maintained to protect short-term liquidity. Diversification of funding among different markets and an adequate number of financial institutions is used to safeguard the availability of liquidity at all times. Group Treasury monitors bank account structures, cash balances and forecasts of the operating units, and manages the utilization of the consolidated cash resources.

The liquidity position of Metso Outotec remained good. As of September 30, 2022, liquid funds, consisting of cash and cash equivalents, amounted to EUR 467 million (EUR 473 million on December 31, 2021), and there were no deposits or securities with a maturity more than three months (EUR 0 million on December 31, 2021).

In addition, Metso Outotec has a committed and undrawn EUR 600 million syndicated revolving credit facility with a maturity in 2026. The facility includes sustainability performance targets. At the end of the period, the facility was undrawn. The company also has a EUR 600 million Finnish commercial paper program, of which EUR 251 million was utilized at the end of the period.

During the third quarter, Metso Outotec signed a EUR 100 million term loan agreement for two years with one of its relationship banks. The loan remained undrawn at the end of September.

Capital structure management in Metso Outotec comprises both equity and interest-bearing debt. As of September 30, 2022, the equity attributable to shareholders was EUR 2,283 million (EUR 2,250 million on December 31, 2021), and the amount of interest-bearing debt, excluding lease liabilities, was EUR 1,042 million (EUR 819 million on December 31, 2021).

Metso Outotec has a target to maintain an investment-grade credit rating. Metso Outotec has 'BBB-' long-term issuer credit rating with positive outlook from S&P Global Ratings and 'Baa2' long-term issuer rating with stable outlook from Moody's Investor Service.

There are no prepayment covenants in Metso Outotec's financial contracts that would be triggered by changes in credit rating. Covenants included in some financing agreements refer to a combination of certain credit-rating level and Metso Outotec's capital structure. Metso Outotec is in compliance with all covenants and other terms of its debt instruments.

5. Fair value estimation

For those financial assets and liabilities that have been recognized at fair value in the balance sheet, the following measurement hierarchy and valuation methods have been applied:

- Level 1 Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets at the balance sheet date. The market prices are readily and regularly available from an exchange, dealer, broker, market information service system, pricing service, or regulatory agency. The quoted market price used for financial assets is the current bid price. Level 1 financial instruments include fund investments classified as fair value through profit and loss.
- Level 2 The fair value of financial instruments in Level 2 is determined using valuation techniques. These techniques utilize observable market data readily and regularly available from an exchange, dealer, broker, market information service system, pricing service or regulatory agency. Level 2 financial instruments include:
  - Over-the-counter derivatives classified as financial assets/liabilities at fair value through profit and loss or qualified for hedge accounting
  - Debt securities classified as financial instruments at fair value through profit and loss
  - Fixed-rate debt under fair value hedge accounting
- Level 3 A financial instrument is categorized into Level 3 if the calculation of the fair value cannot be based on observable market data. There were no such instruments on September 30, 2022, or on December 31, 2021.

The table below presents financial assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value. There have been no transfers between fair value levels during the presented period.
